Richard Chan - Web Developer

SUMMARY

I am a strong Web Developer with the fervor for technology and programming with a proficiency in JavaScript, HTML, and CSS. I aspire to be the best I can and value learning from my mistakes to further push myself in improving my skills. Constantly looking for the solution to a problem, I tackle it with great tenacity. I have two years of experience in computer programming which has allowed me to develop my frontend and backend skills. Looking to use my experience and skills to secure a position in which I can grow and contribute my expertise.
